Not sure how to ask your party guests for a donation?

Here are some ideas to help put you and your guests at ease.

Tell your guests that:

- You are holding a Cook for the Cure party to help raise money for the Canadian Breast Cancer Foundation
- Funds raised will contribute to vital research that supports early diagnosis, more effective treatment and a positive quality of life for those living with breast cancer
- A donation, of any amount, is greatly appreciated and whatever amount they choose to give will remain completely confidential
- Donations of $20 or more will automatically receive a charitable tax receipt

If you are hosting a party in honour of a friend or family member, be sure to let your guests know.

When your guests ask what they can bring to the party, this is your opportunity to ask them to make a donation to the Canadian Breast Cancer Foundation instead of bringing a host gift.

Remember that by hosting a Cook for the Cure party you have chosen to do something important for the breast cancer cause. Your guests will want to support your endeavour, so don't be afraid to ask!
